Pres. and Mrs. Merrill to be honored

A message to the campus community from George E. Muth, Chairman of the Board of Trustees:

As President and Mrs. Merrill move into their last year at Gallaudet College, we are all reminded of the many contributions they both have made to the richness and meaning of the College. Their 13 years of service on Kendall Green mark a significant era in the College's history.

We know that many of the Merrill's friends and colleagues will want an opportunity to honor them during this last year. At the same time Dr. and Mrs. Merrill would like any such activities to be low key. Therefore, we are setting up a campus committee to review and approve all events in honor of the Merrills to ensure that such events are in keeping with their wishes and to facilitate scheduling.

The committee will be chaired by Barbara Harslem and will consist of Mike Baer, Judy Mannes, Sue Ellis, Jack Gannon, Merv Garretson, LaVarne Hines, Gina Oliva, Terry Schavone and Phoebe Simmons. In order to ensure appropriate recognition of the Merrills in the limited time available, all student, faculty and staff plans must first be submitted to the Committee for review. In addition, the committee will be planning a number of campus wide activities.

We would appreciate all of you honoring the Merrill's desires by working through the committee; it will work closely with the Office of the President and interested parties.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Men's volleyball team attempts to break world record for playing

The world record for continuous volleyball playing by men, according to the Guinness Book of World Records, is 75 hours and 30 minutes. But a new world record may soon be set by the Gallaudet College men's volleyball team as it attempts to break the old record beginning Nov. 11.

The men's volleyball team has eight veterans, and tryouts will be held on Nov. 2-6 to select four more students to make up two six-man teams. Coach Farley Warshaw will select the four students on the basis of stamina, attitude, desire and volleyball skills.

The team will follow two basic rules in its quest to break the world record: two six-man teams, with no substitutions allowed, will play each other continuously; and only one five-minute break will be allowed each hour.

The attempt to break the world record will begin on Thursday, Nov. 11 at 4 p.m. in Gallaudet's Field House. The two teams must play until 7:30 p.m. or later Sunday, Nov. 14, to break the record.

The purpose of the "Volleyballathon" is to raise money to support the volleyball team's spring trip to play against several colleges in New York. The team is an associate member of the Eastern College Volleyball League, and to gain full membership status must play against members of the ECVBL. During the trip, the Gallaudet volleyball team will play against the University of Rochester, Syracuse University, Cortland State, NTID and other colleges.

To get the fundraising event going, the Miller Brewing Company will donate $100 plus contribute 25 cents for each bottle or can of Miller beer sold at the Abbey on Saturday, Nov. 13. Miller is also supplying the team with jerseys. In addition, the Abbey has started contributing 5 cents from each alcoholic beverage sold to the volleyball fund and will continue to do so until the "Volleyballathon" ends.

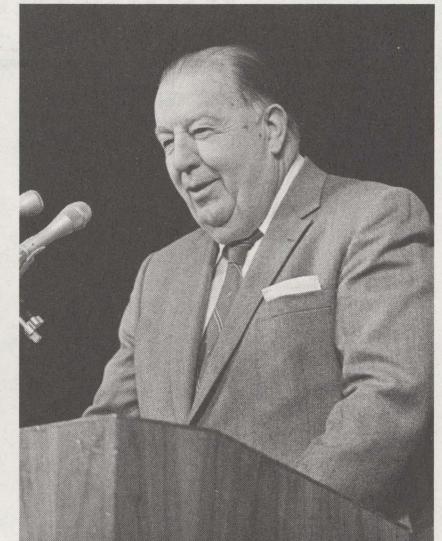

College personnel are also being asked to pledge 10 cents for each game played during the record breaking attempt. Faculty and staff will be receiving pledge cards and are asked to return them to Farley Warshaw.

Happy Hour begins

Next week marks the beginning of "Happy Hour" in the Ole Jim. Starting on Wednesday, Nov. 10, Happy Hour will be held every Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 4-6 p.m. in the upstairs area of the Ole Jim.

Beer and wine, at a cost of $1 and 75 cents respectively, will be served, and the College is also investigating the possibility of getting a hard liquor license in the future.

To celebrate the beginning of Happy Hour, complimentary snacks will be served on Nov. 10-12.

Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-W.VA), right, was the keynote speaker at the National Symposium on Employment of Handicapped Individuals held at Gallaudet Oct. 26-28. Participants included placement coordinators working with federal agencies throughout the country. The event was co-sponsored by the Department of the Navy, Office of Personnel Management, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Public Health Service and President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. EPOC served as the coordinating office on campus, and EPOC director Bill Varrius and Assistant Director Anne Nissen participated in discussions during the symposium on, respectively, preparing supervisors and co-workers for disabled persons, and recruiting and interviewing.

Archives regains records

by David de Lorenzo

The Gallaudet College Archives has recently acquired 11 linear feet of records relating to Gallaudet College, 1857-1957, from the National Archives. The records were presented to President Edward C. Merrill, Jr. by Robert M. Warner, archivist of the United States, National Archives and Records Service, in a ceremony held Oct. 25 in the Learning Center. The records had originally belonged to Gallaudet College but had been transferred to the custody of the National Archives as part of the records of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

In 1934, the National Archives was established by an act of Congress and given the responsibility of collecting the records of each agency in the federal government. The National Archives, adhering to its mandate, contacted Gallaudet College President Percival Hall in 1936 requesting that the records of the College be transferred to its custody. The Archives contended that "it has been noted that the appropriation for your institution is made by Congress and that therefore you are correctly classified as a Government Institution." President Hall repeatedly denied this. He maintained that "our employees have been a number of times definitely classified by the Comptroller General as not employees of the government, and our institution has likewise been decided not to be a government bureau or office." The argument continued but, as can be seen from the correspondence, President Hall did not acquiesce in this matter.

It is, however, not known who authorized the eventual transfer of the records nor when they were given to the National Archives. Ironically, the fact that the records had been transferred was quickly forgotten, if it had been noticed at all.

In 1975, the National Archives published a Preliminary Inventory of the Records of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in which the records of Gallaudet College were included, thus making known the existence of these records to the campus community. Several months ago, at the request of the Gallaudet College archivist, the National Archives initiated a re-appraisal of the records whereupon it was decided to return the records to the custody of the College.

The records fill gaps in the College's archival collection created by their absence. With these documents, the College Archives is now able to offer researchers a more complete account of the institution's history. The collection includes the following:

- Letters received by William Lewis Gallaudet, 1868.
- Letters received by Edward Miner Gallaudet, 1889-1894.
- Correspondence file of Percival Hall, 1937-1939.
- Files of Lloyd H. Johnson, Business Manager, 1949-1957.
- Regulations, 1865.
- Records of General Receipts and Expenditures, 1857-1930.
- General Register of Accounts with the United States, 1862-1929.
- Records relating to General Accounts, 1867-1872.
- Ledgers, 1913-1929.
- Cashbooks, 1895-1907 and 1913-1922.
- Accounts of Male Pupils in the Primary Department, 1868-1869.
- Records of Student's Books and Supplies Accounts, 1868-1890.
- Student Fund Ledgers, 1913-14 and 1932-34.
- Records of Boot and Shoe Repair and Clothing Purchases for the Primary Department, 1868-1907.
- Records relating to the Student Institute, 1952.

As can be seen by the variety and age of the records, it is indeed an important acquisition. The Gallaudet College Archives hopes you will find the opportunity to see this valuable collection.

New sign language book published

A new sign language book by Willard J. Madsen, four years in preparation, has been published recently by the Gallaudet College Press.

Intermediate Conversational Sign Language: American Sign Language with English Translations is a textbook that offers an approach to using American Sign Language and English in a bilingual setting. The book presents deaf people conversing in ASL, and their signed conversations are fully illustrated.

Madsen has taught at Gallaudet since 1957. He was the director of Sign Language Programs from 1971-77 and during that time initiated a formal training program for sign language teachers and interpreters. He is currently an associate professor of Sign Communication in the School of Communication. As coordinator of Faculty Training and Orientation, he is responsible for directing the orientation program for all new faculty members each summer and for all sign language classes for the faculty. Madsen is also the author of Conversational Sign Language II, a popular text that has sold more than 60,000 copies since it was published in 1972.

The 25 lessons in the new textbook allow students to learn ASL in manageable chunks and to understand the rules of sign production and grammar. The lessons also enable sign language students and deaf people to learn to use colloquialisms and idiomatic expressions in their informal conversations.

Intermediate Conversational Sign Language includes in each lesson an introductory paragraph, a glossed vocabulary review, translation exercises from ASL to English and from English to ASL, substitution drills and suggested activities. The 400-page book also contains an alphabetical index.

The book is now available at the Gallaudet College Bookstore.

Nearly 200 people attended a reception Oct. 20 to honor 27 present and former Gallaudet faculty and staff who wrote or edited 12 books published by the Gallaudet College Press since January, 1981. Among those who attended the event in Ely Center were, from left, Edward Corbett, Jr. and Carl Jensema (co-authors, Teachers of the Deaf), Eugene Bergman (co-author, Tales from a Clubroom), Karen Saulnier (co-editor, Signed English Series), Frank Zieziula (editor, Assessment of Hearing-Impaired People), Willard Madsen (author, Intermediate Conversational Sign Language), and Sy DuBow (co-author, Legal Rights of Hearing-Impaired People). The reception was sponsored by the Gallaudet College Press and Bookstore.

The Northwest Campus: Gallaudet's School of Preparatory Studies

The campus:

What is the Northwest Campus?

In the fall of 1981, Gallaudet College obtained from the United States Congress the former Marjorie Webster Junior College. The property is located in the northwest section of the District of Columbia—hence, the name Northwest Campus.

This campus is 8.7 acres in size and contains seven buildings which include dormitories, classrooms and offices in addition to a library, auditorium, gymnasium, swimming pool and cafeteria. The campus is located in one of the best residential neighborhoods in Washington, D.C. and is within walking distance of a park and the nearby suburban shopping district of Silver Spring, MD.

Why is the College adding the Northwest Campus?

For several years, the Main Campus (Kendall Green) has become more and more crowded. The newly renovated Northwest Campus will allow the College to continue its growth and to accept the increasing numbers of students who seek admission to the College's programs. The new campus, which will open to students in the fall of 1983, will allow Gallaudet College to serve the students who were born during the years of the rubella epidemic in 1964-65 who will be ready to enter college beginning in 1983. The campus can accommodate up to 400 students.

Which students will attend the Northwest Campus?

Gallaudet College preparatory students will attend classes and live on the Northwest Campus. Gallaudet has operated a Preparatory Program for many years. Every year, between 60-70% of the newly admitted students will need a course of preparatory studies. The School of Preparatory Studies is responsible for the Preparatory Program, which provides an opportunity for intensive instruction, particularly in English and mathematics, as well as help for students to mature as individuals. The School of Preparatory Studies will have a dean who reports to the vice president for Academic Affairs. This vice president is responsible for all College-level instructional programs at Gallaudet.

Where will freshman students attend classes?

Freshmen, like other upperclassmen, will attend classes on Kendall Green, Gallaudet's Main Campus. When preparatory students successfully complete their course of study (tests and classes which should take approximately two semesters), they will become freshmen and move to the Main Campus.

Will preparatory students have an opportunity to meet upperclassmen?

Yes. Gallaudet College prides itself on the fact that it hires its own students for many campus jobs. In 1980, Gallaudet students earned nearly a million dollars from campus employment. The preparatory students will meet other Gallaudet upperclass students who work and live on the Northwest Campus as dormitory counselors and aides. In addition, most jobs such as tutors, library and recreation aides will be held by Gallaudet upperclassmen who will commute from the Main Campus.

A regular shuttle bus service to and from the Main Campus will be available and can transport interested preparatory students to the Main Campus for special events.

Why is the Northwest Campus called a self-contained campus?

The Northwest Campus will include all of the services necessary for a college campus. Although it is unlikely, it is possible that a preparatory student might choose to stay on the Northwest Campus and never visit the Main Campus until she/he becomes a freshman. Located in a pleasant, secure part of the city near a major shopping area, the campus will have its own security force, dispensary (nurse), library and cafeteria in addition to the academic program.

The program:

What is the School of Preparatory Studies?

The School of Preparatory Studies is a special program offered by the faculty and staff of Gallaudet College designed to develop the skills and provide the knowledge that will serve as a necessary foundation upon which to build college learning.

Preparatory students take courses in English, mathematics, science and other subjects designed for students who have demonstrated the aptitude for success in college but who need additional attention in specific academic areas before they are ready to begin their freshman year.

Why is the School of Preparatory Studies located at the Northwest Campus instead of on the Main Campus?

In the next several years, much of the growth at Gallaudet will occur at the preparatory level. Gallaudet College views the acquisition of the Northwest Campus as an opportunity not only to accommodate the increased numbers of preparatory students, but as an opportunity to provide a better focus on the special academic and student development needs of this group.

Will the Preparatory Program at the Northwest Campus differ from the one previously offered on the Main Campus?

Yes. The Northwest Campus will be administered by the dean of the School continued

The large field on campus provides plenty of space for outdoor games. At right is the old spring house.

of Preparatory Studies, who can provide high level administrative attention to the Preparatory Program and supporting services. The new Preparatory Program will be structured to give more personal attention to the student. Faculty members will be organized into instructional teams to provide a view of student progress across the curriculum.

What will be the grading policy at the Northwest Campus?

The grading policy will be exactly the same as at the Main Campus. The Gallaudet College Catalog can be consulted for details.

Will there be an orientation program for new preparatory students?

Yes. All new students at Gallaudet College, whether at the Northwest or Main Campus, will participate in a student orientation program. This program introduces the student to the resources of Gallaudet College and provides the opportunity for the new student to make a smooth transition to college life.

In addition to large buildings like the one shown above, the Northwest Campus includes several houses that will be used for faculty offices.

The Northwest Campus is part of Gallaudet

Will students at the Northwest Campus be Gallaudet College students?

Yes. Students at the Northwest Campus will be admitted through the regular admissions procedures of the Gallaudet Admissions Office. They will be registered by the Gallaudet Registrar's Office, as are students who live on the Main Campus. Students at the Northwest Campus will be members of the Gallaudet student body and entitled to all privileges supported by student fees.

Can students at the Northwest Campus use the services at the Main Campus?

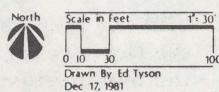

The Northwest Campus will provide essential services for students residing there. In addition to the academic program, complete living accommodations and food service will be provided together with ample recreational, cultural, health, library, counseling and audiological services.

In addition, the resources of the Main Campus will be available to support students, faculty and staff from the Northwest Campus. These include the use of complete library services on Kendall Green and extensive student development programs such as counseling, job placement, financial aid, cultural activities, special services for handicapped students, infirmary and recreation services and athletic events.

How can students get to the Main Campus from the Northwest Campus?

The Northwest Campus, located at 7775 17th St. NW at the northern point of D.C. close to Silver Spring, MD, is approximately eight miles from Gallaudet's Main Campus in D.C. (800 Florida Ave. NE). A free shuttle bus service will provide transportation between campuses and also will take students to and from stations on the Metropolitan Washington area subway system. The Silver Spring subway station is only a 10 minute walk from the Northwest Campus. Special arrangements will be made to transport interested Northwest Campus residents to the Main Campus for special events.

Are students required to go to the Main Campus?

Except in rare cases, preparatory students will take all of their coursework at the Northwest Campus. Since all essential services are offered there, the need for travel to the Main Campus is more one of enrichment, special assignments and varied recreation.

Will teachers at the Northwest Campus be college professors?

Yes. In fact, all of the professors at the Northwest Campus will be members of the Gallaudet Collegiate Faculty which consists of undergraduate and graduate faculty members. The requirements for being a professor at the Northwest Campus are exactly the same as at the Main Campus. In fact, many of the professors who will be at the Northwest Campus formerly taught at the Main Campus and some will share their time between both campuses.

Will preparatory students be permitted to participate in Gallaudet College athletics?

The Northwest Campus will have a full recreation program and preparatory students will have every opportunity to participate in it. The question of whether preparatory students will be permitted to participate in varsity sports is under study. However, since sports eligibility is normally limited to four years, most students may prefer to save their eligibility until they come to the Main Campus after their preparatory year.

Student life and activities at the Northwest Campus

What will the dormitory rooms look like?

Students will be housed in Main, Fraser or Memorial Halls. All rooms will include beds, desks, desk chairs, carpeting and window coverings. Each dormitory also has a lounge area with comfortable furniture, television and recreation equipment.

How will students assure that they stay well?

The dispensary's medical staff will establish health education programs to cover a variety of topics, including first aid, cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR), sex education and the concept of "wellness." The programs will be presented through various settings such as small group discussion, mini-seminars and visual media.

Who will be in charge of the dorms?

There will be a head resident advisor and seven student upperclassmen living in the dorms. The student staff members will be trained paraprofessionals who work closely with the students in counseling, advising and providing programs to meet their developmental needs.

What recreational facilities will be available on campus?

There is a gymnasium, a swimming pool and a large grassy area for outdoor games. In addition to such usual activities as basketball, volleyball, badminton and aerobics, the gymnasium area will also have a weight training room with exercise equipment.

Where will students eat on campus?

The campus cafeteria in the Main Building will serve three meals a day. In the same building, there is also an old fashioned snack bar which will serve between and after-hour snacks.

What kind of physical education program will the Northwest Campus have?

The Physical Education Department provides recreation supervisors to assist students with the facilities. The Physical Education program will offer aquatics, personal fitness, gymnastics and tumbling. A Par Course (organized exercise trail) and a Discovery Course for building physical self-confidence will also be available. Students can also participate in extensive intramural and recreation programs on the Northwest Campus and intramural programs between the Northwest Campus and the Main Campus.

What happens if students get sick?

The Northwest Campus will be served by a dispensary operated on an outpatient basis. Primary medical care will be available from a staff of registered nurses, nurse practitioners and a part-time physician. Students with illnesses which require care on a 24-hour basis will be transported to the Student Health Service at the Main Campus. Liaisons will be established with nearby hospitals to facilitate care for Gallaudet students.

What other activities are close to the Northwest Campus?

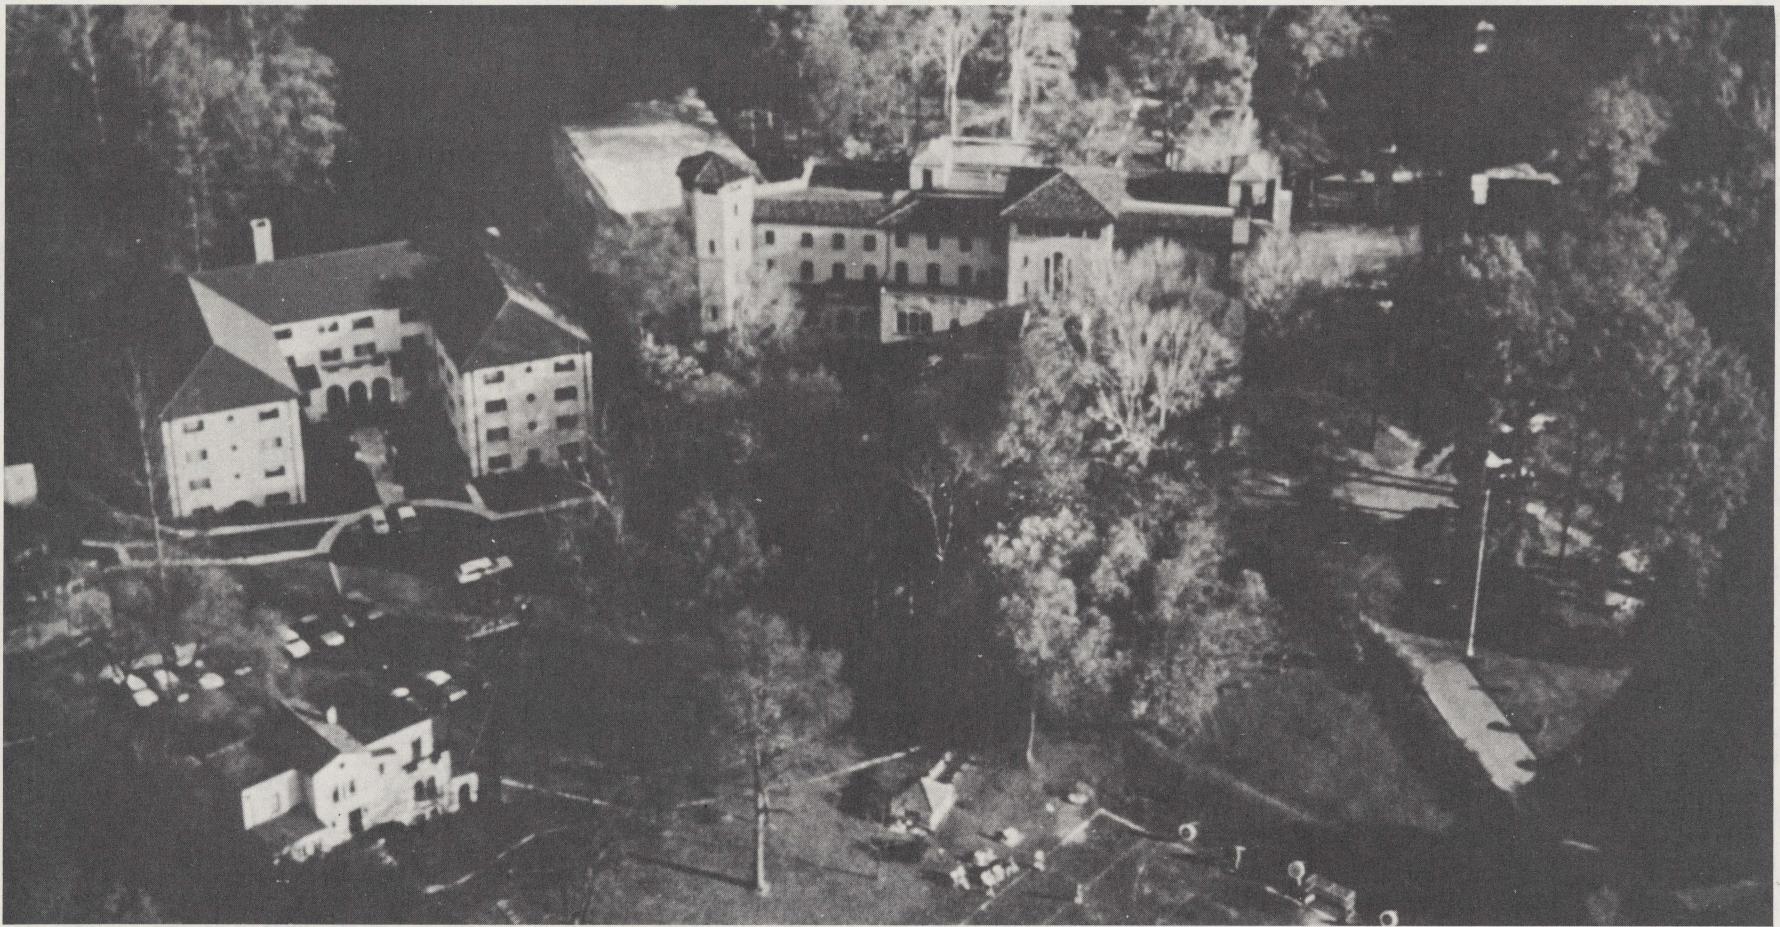

Rock Creek Park, adjacent to the campus, offers a wide variety of recreational activities which are enjoyed by people of all ages. The 1,764 acre park, four miles long and one mile wide, is administered by the National Park Service. It offers horse and bike rentals, hiking and nature trails, a nature center with interpreted tours for hearing impaired people, a planetarium and a lake for sailing, water cycling and fishing.

The large gymnasium at the Northwest Campus can accommodate a variety of activities.

Northwest Campus buildings contain comfortable lounge areas.

This aerial view of the campus was taken during the 1960s when the space was occupied by Marjorie Webster Junior College.

Admissions information

How can students enter Gallaudet College?

Students must show ability to undertake college-level studies by passing the Gallaudet entrance examination or by having good ACT/SAT scores.

How do students take the entrance examination?

Just fill out and return the form below and the College will send an application. There is no charge for the examination.

Where can the examination be taken?

The exam can be taken at the student's school if someone will accept the responsibility for administering it. This person can be a teacher, school counselor or principal.

What is included in the examination?

The examination is a series of tests which measure students' abilities to read and understand English and express themselves clearly in writing. It also measures their knowledge of mathematics to the Algebra II level. The test takes a full day to complete.

When is the examination given?

The first or second week of February is the traditional time. Students are notified before April 1 of the results of the examination.

If students pass the examination, what else is necessary for admittance?

Students must tell Gallaudet College if they plan to enroll and send in a $50 admissions fee. Until this is done, space cannot be reserved in the dormitories or classes. Also, the student, parents and family doctor need to provide the information requested on the health and other forms which are mailed to the student.

What does it cost to attend Gallaudet?

This year the cost to United States citizens is $3,542. This includes room, board, tuition and fees. Students will need additional money for books and personal needs.

Where can students get money to attend Gallaudet?

Gallaudet College seeks to provide its students with a quality education at the lowest possible cost to them. The College will help students identify sources of financial assistance to help them meet their expenses.

On the average, students receive adequate financial aid to handle their expenses. In fact, approximately 90 to 95% of all students at Gallaudet received some type of financial assistance in 1981-82.

Financial aid available to students includes Grant in Aid, National Direct Student Loans, Guaranteed Student Loans, Vocational Rehabilitation assistance, Pell Grants, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, Supplemental Security Income, state grants, private scholarships, college work study programs and campus employment.

How can people receive additional information?

For further information about financial aid, admission to Gallaudet College or the Northwest Campus programs, fill out the form and return it to the Gallaudet Admissions Office.

President's Office Notes

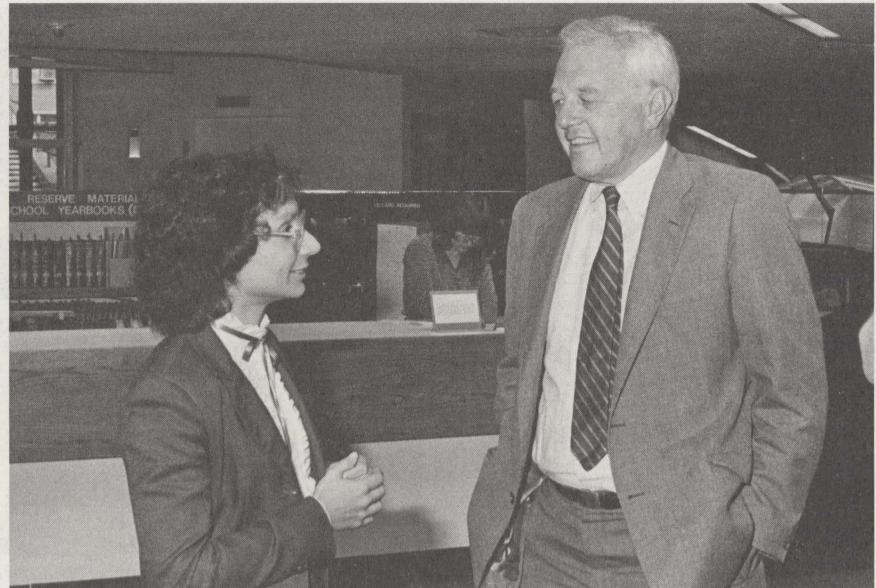

Trustees meet

The Gallaudet College Board of Trustees met on Wednesday, Oct. 20 and Thursday, Oct. 21. At the Wednesday evening dinner meeting, the Board heard an update of the activities of the Division of Research from Doin Hicks and Ray Trybus.

On Thursday, Oct. 21, at its business meeting, the Board approved several items relating to the operation of business affairs and the following policies: Contracts Administration, Telecommunications, Employee Termination, Compensation Programs, Staff Employment, Military Leave and Inclement Weather. The military leave policy is the only new policy. Prior to its approval, there had been no written policy for employees who are absent.

from work while on temporary assignment to the military. A change was made in the Pre-College policy with regard to the academic requirements for vocational instructors and resident advisors. The Board approved a revision to the KDES bylaws and accepted amendments to the Collegiate Faculty bylaws. The report and recommendations of the scientific advisory board of the Research Institute were accepted.

Chairman Alexander Patterson of the Committee on Trustees of the Board recommended the appointment of Dr. Jane Evans, president of Mount Vernon College and Mr. William Peace of the State Commission of the Deaf and Hearing Impaired in Raleigh, NC to fill vacancies on the Board of Fellows. These nominations were unanimously approved by the Board.

Gina Oliva of the Institutional Advancement Office helps give Henry Ashforth, a new member of Gallaudet's Board of Trustees, an orientation to campus. Ashforth, who is from Greenwich, CT, fills one of the vacancies on the Board. He owns a commercial real estate company and has two hearing impaired daughters.

Annual Reports available

Extra copies of the 1981 Annual Report for Gallaudet College are available for distribution on campus. Anyone interested in a copy can call the Alumni and Public Relations Office at x5100.

Blood drive begins

Once again Gallaudet is having its annual Fall Red Cross Blood Drive. The Bloodmobile will be at Gallaudet on Thursday, Nov. 10 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. in the Multipurpose Room of Ely Center.

Donors supply 90% of the blood needed by more than four million people in D.C., Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. Currently, fewer than 4% of the people in our community contribute to the entire supply which helps the sick, accident victims, persons undergoing surgery or Rh factor babies.

For further information, contact Tina Jo Breindel, the Red Cross Blood Drive Chairperson at Gallaudet, at x5727 from 9 a.m.-12 p.m. You can also leave messages at the Office of Student Life, x5749.

Pre-College Pace

The following monthly column in On the Green shares information about Pre-College activities that previously appeared in the monthly PACE newsletter.

New computer system for KDES

During the last school year Kendall Demonstration Elementary School developed a set of long range goals over the next three to five years which would be responsive to the school's dual mandate described in its founding legislation (Public Law 91-587). The mandate requires the school to provide an elementary education to students in the National Capital Region and to stimulate the development of similar excellent programs throughout the nation.

In a "State of the School Address" last year, Dean Mike Deninger announced the major goal for the school during the ensuing three years—the development of a comprehensive Computer Managed Education System (CMES). To prepare for the system and to identify all of the educational activities which should be managed via the computer, a complete needs assessment of computer applications at KDES was conducted by a consultant team headed by Dr. Stephen Klein of the Rand Corporation. This needs assessment resulted in the development of specifications for the CMES at Kendall.

During May of last year a request for proposals responding to the CMES specifications was solicited from 15 different computer software developers. Several companies responded to the call for proposals with bids for the development of the system. KDES is now very close to reaching agreement with one or more companies for the development of the CMES. The goals for this year are to secure a contract with a development firm, to purchase the necessary computer equipment and to develop or modify software to enable the school to generate Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) using the computer next spring.

A few of the other features of the computer system will be the storage and retrieval of the KDES curriculum objectives, student records management, ment, class attendance, scheduling, word processing and telecommunication with remote sites. The system will consist of a network of microcomputers capable of communicating with the Gallaudet central computer system and with schools for the deaf who have similar computer hardware. It is hoped that this system will serve as the 'hub' for a national computer network.

In order to identify what computer equipment is currently being used in schools for the deaf and what features schools and programs serving the deaf would like to see KDES emphasize in the development of this network, a national survey was conducted seeking opinions from 500 different schools. When these data are analyzed, KDES will use the information to tailor its resources to meet the needs expressed in the survey.

Making MSSD the most inviting school in town

by Richard Lytle

This is the challenge that Dr. William Purkey left with the faculty and staff at MSSD when he spoke at MSSD on Sept. 3. Dr. Purkey, a noted lecturer and author, was invited to be a part of MSSD's efforts to focus on involving all members of the MSSD community—students, faculty, staff, administrators and parents—in making MSSD a challenging and great place to be.

Last year MSSD began this effort by initiating a year-long program of Reality Therapy. Many of the Reality Therapy activities helped MSSD to focus on involvement and a group process for problem solving. This year's theme at MSSD is "Working Together" and stresses what was learned in Reality Therapy program last year along with Purkey's challenge of consciously becoming "inviting" as individuals and as a school.

To accomplish this goal, the faculty and staff have held small group meetings to suggest ways to make MSSD more inviting. One strategy has been the explosion of welcome signs throughout the school and dorm facilities. Another example is that on the morning of Oct. 1, the students invited the faculty and staff into their residence halls for a morning of learning and interaction. In the afternoon, after the students left for the weekend, MSSD faculty and staff had a fall retreat that included a variety of games and sports where various departments and groups challenged each other to battles of brain and brawn.

To members of the Gallaudet community, MSSD extends an invitation to visit MSSD and be a part of the community. Please feel free to call Lee Murphy, x5823, or any other member of the MSSD community.

Outreach activities

Jo Israelson, planning specialist with Outreach, presented a Rewriting Materials for the Deaf Workshop to teachers from the Maine State Association of Educators of the deaf in Portland, ME on Oct. 2.

Kay Meadow of Research, in cooperation with Outreach and Kellogg, presented two workshops in Florida. One was held at the St. Augustine School. The second workshop was sponsored by the Educators of the Hearing Impaired and held in Tampa. Topic of the workshops was the Social Emotional Inventory.

Max Fitz-Gerald of MSSD presented a jointly sponsored Outreach/Kellogg Sex Education Workshop to the staff at the New York School for the Deaf in Rome, NY on Oct. 12. In addition, visitors from the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf observed the Sex Ed classes being taught by Fitz-Gerald.

Glenda Ennis, Outreach, and Kay Pelletier, MSSD, returned to the West Virginia School for the Deaf in Romney to assist in the development of the Dormitory IEP with both the dorm administration and residence staff.

Julia Stovall, Outreach, and Nancy Fones, MSSD, returned for two days of consultation to the Curriculum Committees at the West Virginia School for the Deaf as part of the ongoing assistance to the school.

Jim Achtzehn, School of Education, and Debbie Pollicove, coordinator of the Affiliated Schools Program, Outreach, and Mark Goldfarb, assistant to the vice president, Pre-College Programs, went to the Scranton School for the Deaf recently. Achtzehn made a presentation to the Sex Education Committee and worked on planning with them. Pollicove met with the Language Committee to begin work on developing a language curriculum. Goldfarb met with the Manual Communication Committee to assist in the development of a M.C. policy.

MSSD to host women's volleyball tournament here

It's going to be a busy week for MSSD starting Wednesday evening Nov. 3. MSSD is hosting the 2nd Annual Eastern Schools for the Deaf Athletic Association Women's Volleyball Tournament. Six schools, including defending champion MSSD, will participate in the tourney—American, Pennsylvania, Millneck, New York (Fanwood) and Lexington.

The first two rounds begin Thursday starting at 1:30 p.m. in the MSSD gym and the championship match is scheduled for Friday evening after the consolation match which starts at 7 p.m.

MSSD will conclude its football season with a Homecoming game Saturday, Nov. 6 against the Maryland School for the Deaf. Kick-off time is 2 p.m. The J.V. football team will also conclude its season on Thursday, Nov. 4 in a game against St. Mary's H.S. starting at 3 p.m. at MSSD's football field.

College sports update

The Bison lost the Oct. 16 Homecoming game to Appalachian State club football team 23-14 before an estimated 1,500 fans. On Oct. 23, the Bison suffered its worst defeat of the season to Georgetown University 37-6.

In other College sport results: the soccer team defeated NTID 6-1 and Shelton 4-0 giving the Bison booters a 7-4 record. With two games left, the soccer team is guaranteed to post its seventh consecutive winning season.

The field hockey team has been playing well lately. The team defeated Mt. Vernon College twice within a span of 10 days and played a strong Catholic team to a tie. Montgomery College dealt the Bisonettes their only defeat last week. The field hockey team is sporting a 4-4-2 record.

Results of all volleyball games within the past week were not available at press time.

Correction

It was reported in the Oct. 18 On the Green that Gina Oliva, the new assistant to the vice president for Planning in the Institutional Advancement Office, was holding her new position part-time. Oliva is currently working full-time in this new position and can be contacted at x5075.

Don't miss the last two performances of the new, action-filled musical "The Kid" on Nov. 5 and 6 at 8 p.m. in the Elstad Auditorium. Tickets can be reserved by calling x5605 voice or x5608 TDD. Cast of the performance includes: 1st row—Michelina Martin, Marsha Goeken; 2nd row—Rodney Jamieson, Peter Gonzalez, Kim Poon; 3rd row—Mike Kaufer, Beverly Buchanan, Sharon Kocher; and far right—Charles Katz.

The MSSD Eagles walloped Colonial Beach 44-15 on Oct. 22 at Hotchkiss Field. The Eagles, sporting a 4-3 record, have won three in a row since they were shut out by St. Pauls on Oct. 2.

In the Colonial Beach game Sean Markel scored three TDs while teammates Toselli Silvestri, Ray Brooks and Nicky Vernon contributed one each. Brooks' TD was the result of a blocked punt by Eagle defensive player Dan Naputi. The ball rolled into the end zone where Brooks pounced on it for a TD.

The Eagles were actually on the losing end early in the third quarter 15-14, but then the offense came alive and the defense shut out Colonial Beach the rest of the way.

On Oct. 16, the Eagles journeyed to Kentucky for a game against Ky. S.D. which MSSD won 32-6.

Results of other MSSD games: The J.V. football team defeated Riverdale Baptist 42-0 on Oct. 14 but a week later, on Oct. 21 the Eagles lost to Pallotti 26-6. J.V. record is 2-2.

The soccer team lost to Marie Katzenbach School for the Deaf 1-0 and to St. Andrews 2-1 but bounced back with a 3-2 win over Jewish Day. Soccer team has a 4-5 record.

The cross country team picked up five victories since Oct. 13. The Eagle harriers defeated Queen Anne 20-44, Edmund Burke 26-36, Jewish Day 21-41 and in a triangular meet against MKSD and PSD the Eagles defeated PSD 26-29 but lost to MKSD 21-34. The girls scored a win over MKSD 23-32.

The girls volleyball team defeated PSD on Oct. 12, 15-6, 15-4 and 15-8 and the next day the Eagles defeated LaReine 15-3, 15-13 and 15-11.

WFD Congress set

The IX World Congress of the World Federation of the Deaf will be held in Palermo, Italy from June 29-July 6, 1983. The theme is "Deafness Today and Tomorrow: Utopia and Reality."

The purpose of the Congress is to provide a forum for representatives of national associations of the deaf from 70 countries to meet and discuss problems and issues of mutual interest, and to provide a means for professionals working with deaf people to share experiences and research findings.

Just before the WFD Congress in Palermo, the Third International Symposium on Sign Language Research will be held in Rome from June 22-26, 1983. The theme is "What Can Sign Language Research Teach Us About Language and Thought?" Discussions will all be concerned with linguistic and psycholinguistic research.

Planning has begun to determine the extent of involvement of Gallaudet College in the two meetings. For further information contact the ICD, x5316.
